About Our Authors

Gabe Brown is a pioneering regenerative farmer. Together with his wife and son, he owns and operates Brown's Ranch, a diversified 5,000 acre farm and ranch near Bismarck, North Dakota.

Emily Chaffins is a fiction writer, journalist, and blogger. She is the creator and curator of the Archdiocese of Miami's Through the Catholic Lens blog.

Shawn and Beth Dougherty have been farming together since the 1980s, for the last 20 years in eastern Ohio, where they manage 90 acres, much of it designated by the state as "not suitable for agriculture."

Father Terry Ehrman, C.S.C., is an Assistant Teaching Professor in the Department of Theology at the University of Notre Dame. He investigates the relationship between theology and science, particularly the life sciences of ecology and evolution.

Kate Schmitt is the Director of Development for Catholic Rural Life.

Denyse Shannon has written professionally for over two and a half decades and taught introductory media writing at Central Michigan University. She also holds a Master of Arts in journalism from Michigan State University.

Kara Storey is a freelance writer from Des Moines, Iowa.
